

Dental Practitioner Programs Currently Accredited by the ADC

(as at 23 May 2021 – contact the ADC for any updated information)

Please note that graduates of programs accredited by the Australian Dental Council (ADC) and approved by the Dental Board of Australia (DBA) are eligible to apply for registration with the DBA. Please see the DBA's website (www.dentalboard.gov.au) for further details regarding the registration process. If (re)accreditation is granted, subject to conditions, the table below will be updated once the program meets all conditions.

To ensure that accredited programs continue to meet the ADC/Dental Council (New Zealand) Accreditation standards for dental practitioner programs during the period of the COVID-19 pandemic, the ADC has imposed a monitoring requirement on all accredited programs. All providers are required to provide a quarterly update on changes to accredited programs with enrolled students/trainees, or as major changes occur at individual education providers. For more information on the ADC's response to COVID-19 for accredited programs please click here.
